After an extensive interview and selection process, the design/build team of Branscum Construction and Million Architecture was unanimously selected by the Board of Heritage Hospice to design and construct their new office facilities in Enterprise Business Park in Danville Kentucky. Ground was broken in August of 2006 for this new 16,800 square foot facility to meet the growing needs of the Hospice Organization. During her remarks at the ground-breaking Janelle Wheeler, executive director of Hospice spoke of the design team saying, “For those of you that have ever worked with designers, I can say of ours, they just got it. They understood what we needed and they designed it for us.” This facility was completed and occupied May of 2007
